edison365

edison365 expands its existing portfolio to include edison365projects, formerly known as PS+

edison365 launches the edison365 suite, comprising edison365ideas, the ground breaking ideation solution, and edison365projects, formerly known as PS+; the award-winning Project Portfolio Management (PPM) solution.

PS+ launched in 2013 and has global partners and customers across all business sectors. The passion behind the PS+ team combined with the close working relationship with Microsoft has led to PS+ winning Microsoft global partner of the year award and ensures that customers are able to drive value, increase employee productivity, enhance customer satisfaction and improve bottom line revenue.

Over the course of 2017 the team behind PS+ listened to its customers and enriched PS+ to share the same acclaimed user experience and usability as edison365ideas whilst at the same time adding major new functionality around portfolio optimisation and management reporting. PS+ has now officially changed its name to edison365projects and joins edison365ideas under the edison365 Suite.

With thousands of edison365 users already across Europe, North America, Asia and Australia, edison365 creates the freedom to crowdsource ideas and the structure to implement them.

With edison365ideas, businesses empower and engage their employees with a solution to raise their ideas and focus on specific operational issues with insight from every level of the organisation.

edison365projects, features a simple, intuitive user interface and provides a structured approach supporting end to end project, portfolio and resource management to bring about value with measurable results.

ideas and projects can be used together or on their own as solutions for ideation or PPM.

The edison365 suite leverages a business's existing Microsoft Office 365 investment. For many organisations, Crowdsourcing ideas or managing projects through Office 365 is the obvious route; edison365 is easy to deploy and enables organisations to fulfil their end to end ideation and PPM requirements whilst maximising the use of their office365 platform.

"Many businesses are missing out on innovative new ways to succeed and grow, because good ideas aren't heard or developed properly. The edison365 suite gives them a means to create and collaborate on ways to enhance business value. Time to value is fast, as it's easy to use and leverages existing Office 365 investments."

edison365ideas enables employees of all levels to submit their ideas, respond to challenges, and collaborate with colleagues. Through crowdsourcing, edison365ideas increases employee engagement, and rewards the workforce for their investment in the future of their business. Once submitted ideas can be objectively rated by a challenge group to easily understand which ideas will be successful and bring the most benefit. edison365ideas creates an environment that fosters collaboration with actionable objectives – for greater innovation.

edison365projects delivers all the capabilities for successfully managing a diverse portfolio of projects and resources; from planning through to resource optimisation, collaboration, document control and time collection. Advanced analytics and reporting supports businesses in their decision-making process enabling problems to be anticipated and mitigated and performance to be understood and visible.

edison365ideas is used to crowdsource ideas, and edison365projects transforms those creative ideas into winning projects.

Further modules will be added to the suite during 2018.
